NOTE — The figures in brackets are offered as an approximate indication of the number of days which, in a course extending over 15 lectures might suitably be devoted to the respective periods or tendencies or thinkers enumerated. In the cases of Plato, Aristotle, Descartes, Spinoza, Leibniz, Hume, Kant and Hegel, a thorough critical understanding should be aimed at of their main constructive conceptions, accompanied—at least in the cases of Spinoza, Hegel and, very specially, Kant—by some measure of first-hand acquaintance with selections from their writings. In respect of the rest of the Syllabus no more is insisted on than such a general acquaintance with the most prominent tendencies as may suffice to provide an intelligible setting for the fore mentioned eight thinkers and to give a bird's eye view of the history of philosophy in its outstanding features.

Fort St. George, December 31, 1906

No. 131.—The following Order of Government on the subject of the Regulations of the University of Madras is published for general information :—

Order—No. 811, Educational, dated 27th December, 1906

By the provisions of section 26 of the Indian Universities Act, 1904, the Senate of the Madras University are required to cause a revised body of Regulations providing for all matters relating to the University to be prepared and submitted for the sanction of Government within one year from the time the Act comes into force or within such further period as the Government may fix. The Act came into force on the 9th of September, 1904, and the period of one year referred to expired on the 9th of September, 1905. In exercise of the power conferred by section 26 (1) of the Act the Government thereupon fixed the 31st of December, 1905, as the date for the submission of the revised Regulations. Before the close of this period, however, the Senate were able to submit only a portion of the Regulations, namely, those relating to internal administration, and they asked for further time till the 31st March, 1906, to submit the remainder relating to courses of study and examinations. This request was granted (G.O., No. 854, Educational, dated 29th December, 1905); but subsequently the Government were advised that it was not within their power to grant this further extension, and that as the revised Regulations had not been submitted by the Senate before the end of December, 1905, it devolved upon the Government under the power conferred by section 26 (2) of the Act to make them. The orders granting the further extension were then modified and the Senate were informed that the Regulations which were still to be framed should be submitted not as Regulations for the official sanction of the Government but as recommendations for their consideration.

2. The Government were also advised that section 26 of the Act did not appear to contemplate that the Regulations should be either submitted to Government, or sanctioned by them piecemeal but only as a whole. The Regulations already submitted relative to internal administration were, therefore, examined and a few points in them which seemed to require further attention were referred back to the Senate. The remarks of the Senate in reply have now been received as well as certain modified proposals relating to the Registrar of the University. These together with the recommendations as to the remaining Regulations relating to the courses of study and examinations and the rules of affiliation have now been as carefully and fully considered by the Government as the short time left to them for deliberation has permitted. If longer time had remained at their disposal, the Government would have wished to refer back to the Senate for further discussion certain important points of principle, the chief of these being the exclusion from the undergraduate course as a compulsory subject of the classical and vernacular languages of India, and the important question of requiring students throughout their undergraduate course to specialize to the extent which the Senate have recommended, the courses of study for the examinations leading to the B.A. degree.

3. In promulgating the Regulations, it will be advisable to draw attention to some of the more important changes which the new Regulations introduce.

4. Part I deals with the transaction of business by the Senate. The existing by-laws have been amplified and much clearer. Provision has been made for the holding of two ordinary meetings a year instead of one as heretofore and the number of Fellows on whose requisition an extraordinary meeting may be convened has been raised from six to ten. The quorum for a meeting of the Senate has also been raised from nine to twenty-five. The Regulations in this part secure that no decision shall ordinarily be taken without adequate notice and full discussion and that no question shall ordinarily be brought before the Senate which has not been considered by the Syndicate. The existing provision to enable a minority to give formal expression to its views has been retained.

5. Part II relates to the Convocation for the conferring of degrees. Provision has been made for the admission 'in absentia' of candidates for degrees who are not resident within the territorial limits of the University or who are precluded from appearing in public.

6. Part III deals with the election and the powers and duties of the Syndicate. The strength of the Syndicate has been fixed at ten besides the Vice-Chancellor as Chairman and the Director of Public Instruction. There will be no Faculty representation on the Syndicate. The term of office of members of the Syndicate will be raised from one to two years. The Regulations originally submitted by the Senate provided that the whole body of elected members of the Syndicate might be ousted on the Senate's passing a resolution of want of confidence, provided the resolution was supported by a majority of two-thirds of the Fellows present and voting at an extraordinary meeting. The Government addressed the Senate indicating reasons for doubting the expediency of such a Regulation as tending to offer adventitious aids to faction, at the same time pointing out that, as the term of office of elected members of the Syndicate was only two years, the proposed provision seemed the less necessary. Having considered further the Senate's reasons in support of such a Regulation, the Government are unable to accept them and have accordingly made no Regulation, in the terms suggested.

7. Part IV relates to Faculties. The existing Faculties have been retained, but a Fellow can, in future, be assigned only to one Faculty whereas he can be assigned to more than one Faculty under the existing by-laws. The term of office of the President of a Faculty has been fixed at three years and the powers of a Faculty defined.

8. Part V deals with the election of Ordinary Fellows by Faculties. This part gives effect to the provisions of section 6 (1) (2) of the Indian Universities Act, 1904. Regulation 123 is designed to prevent votes being given to a candidate whose election has been disapproved by the Chancellor on the first election.

9. Parts VI and VII provide for the registration of graduates and the election of Ordinary Fellows by registered graduates with reference to the provisions of section 6 (1) (a) of the Act. Regulation 137 as originally framed by the Senate did not provide completely for the consequences (1) of a tie between two or more candidates, or (2) of the Chancellor's refusing to approve the single candidate standing at the head of a poll. When the attention of the Senate was drawn to the omission they proposed that it should be provided that, in the event of a tie, the casting vote should be given to the Fellow of longest standing as a graduate among the registered graduates resident in the City of Madras and failing him to a registered graduate nominated by the Syndicate. The Government, however, would prefer that in such a contingency the selection should be left to the Chancellor and the Regulation has been framed accordingly. Provision has also been made for a fresh election in the event of the Chancellor's refusing to approve of an election and for the disallowance of votes given at such fresh election in favour of the candidate who has been so disapproved.

10. Parts VIII, IX, X and XI relate to Boards of Studies, the University Registrar, Assistant Registrar and Examination Boards. The maximum pay of the Registrar has been raised from Rs. 800 to Rs. 1,000 and provision has been made for granting him leave and pension. In two respects, however, it seemed to Government that the proposals of the Senate in regard to leave were inexpedient, namely, in rendering the Registrar eligible for leave on full pay before completing eleven months' service and in allowing him to combine more than three months' leave with leave on half pay. In the case of leave on full pay the provisions of Chapter XII of the Civil Service Regulations have been made applicable, so far as is possible, consistently with the provision that such leave may be accumulated up to a period of four months, when taken not in conjunction with other leave.

11. Part XII contains a few general Regulations which do not call for special remark.

12. Part XIII deals with the courses of studies, examinations and degrees, of which section (I) relates to the Matriculation examination. The age for admission to this examination has been fixed at fifteen as proposed by the Senate, a proposal, however, which the Government have accepted with considerable hesitation. The date

[illegible][illegible]

The first remark to which these proposals give rise is that they totally exclude the classical and vernacular languages of the country as compulsory subjects. The neglect of these languages by the ordinary University graduate of the present day is notorious. It appears to the Government that, if those who have secured a University education are to do the best for the country with the education they have received, it is imperative that they should preserve a sound knowledge of the vernaculars. With this in view and to ensure that a student may not be led to put aside the study of his mother-tongue, a Regulation has been introduced providing as a compulsory subject in the Intermediate examination for the B.A. degree, composition in a vernacular. A similar provision appears in the new Regulations of the Calcutta University and there the test is made compulsory also at the final examination for the degree. The Government do not propose to insist upon this at present in view of the onerous character of the examinations in the courses of study prescribed for that examination. Since this subject was under the consideration of the Government, they have received several influentially signed memorials from different parts of the Presidency advocating strongly the retention of the study of the vernacular in the undergraduate course. In the case of the few students who are Europeans and Eurasians, some difficulty arises from the fact that the test under this Head (II) will to some extent duplicate one of the subjects under Head I—English, but the test even in these cases will be an independent test in which a minimum number of marks will be required.

Another question of great importance is whether the courses of study proposed for undergraduates from the time they pass the Matriculation examination is not of too highly specialized a character. The age of Matriculation has been fixed at fifteen, and though doubtless the average age is higher, it is a serious question whether a more general plan of study would not be better adapted to the youth of the students and the circumstances of education in the country, at any rate during the first two years of undergraduate study. Specialization commencing after passing the Intermediate examination and thus securing for these young men a wider survey of the field of knowledge before settling down to cultivate one restricted portion of it. The courses proposed for the undergraduate examinations have been, however, so fitted and adapted to the specialized plan of study as not to admit of easy alteration without reconstituting the whole scheme of studies. It is now too late so far as the present Regulations are concerned, to submit the matter for further discussion, or to undertake the task of revision, if that course were approved. In these circumstances the Government have accepted en bloc the Senate's recommendations as to the courses of study.

14 Section (VI) of Part XIII deals with the examination for the degree of Licentiate in Teaching. The Senate intend shortly, it is understood, to submit proposals for the revision of the Regulations relating to this degree.

15 Section (VII) of Part XIII deals with the examinations for the degree of Bachelor of Laws and section (VIII) with the examination for the Master of Laws, while section (IX) relates to the degree of Doctor of Laws. The date of the First Examination in Law and of the B.L. and M.L. degree examinations has been altered from December and January to April. There is no change of any importance in the Regulations for these two degrees.

Section (IX) instituting the degree of Doctor of Laws by examination has been newly inserted, as recommended by the Senate.

16. Sections (X), (XI) and (XII) of Part XIII deal with the examinations for the degree of Licentiate in Medicine and Surgery, of Bachelor of Medicine and Master of Surgery, and of Doctor of Medicine, while section (XIII) relates to the degree of Licentiate in Sanitary Science.

The only alteration of importance in the scheme of examinations for the degree of Licentiate in Medicine and Surgery is the transfer of Practical Pharmacy and Medical Jurisprudence from the subjects for the First L.M. & S. and the Second L.M. & S. to those for the Second L.M. & S. and the Final L.M. & S. respectively, and of Minor Surgery from the subjects for the Second L.M. & S. to those for the First L.M. & S.

In the scheme of examinations for the degree of Bachelor of Medicine and Master of Surgery, the syllabuses in Chemistry, Physics and Biology for the First M.B. & C.M. examination have been slightly altered, a syllabus has been prescribed in Organic Chemistry for the Second M.B. & C.M., the course for the Third M.B. & C.M. has been raised from one to two years, and Medicine, Surgery, Midwifery, Medical Jurisprudence, Ophthalmology and Mental diseases have been omitted from the subjects for the Third M.B. & C.M., and added to those for the Final M.B. & C.M. A provision has also been inserted to the effect that candidates failing to obtain the minimum number of marks prescribed for the Final M.B. & C.M. may be declared to have passed the Final L.M. & S. if they obtained the minimum prescribed for that examination.

In the examination for the degree of Licentiate in Sanitary Science slight alterations have been made in the list of subjects, the syllabus under Vital Statistics has been recast and the syllabus under General Pathology has been enlarged.

17. Section (XIV) deals with the examinations for the degree of Bachelor of Engineering. The dates of these examinations also have been altered to April. The course of study has been raised from thirty months to three years, the former period being too short for a course to qualify for a degree in so important a professional subject of study.

18. The rules for the affiliation of colleges have been revised and brought into conformity with the new Act.

19. These are the main features of the revised Regulations as recommended by the Senate and accepted by Government.

20. The Regulations, as now made by Government under sub-section (2) of section 26 of the Indian Universities Act, VIII of 1904, are printed as an appendix to this order, and will be published in the Fort St. George Gazette.

Acting Secretary to Government.

MATRICULATION EXAMINATION

DETAILED SYLLABUS IN THEORETICAL GEOMETRY

Angles at a point — If a straight line stand on another straight line, the sum of the two angles so formed is equal to two right angles, and the converse

If two straight lines intersect, the vertically opposite angles are equal

Parallel straight lines — When a straight line cuts two other straight lines if

- (i) a pair of alternate angles are equal, or
  - (ii) a pair of corresponding angles are equal, or
  - (iii) a pair of interior angles on the same side of the cutting line are together equal to two right angles,
- then the two straight lines are parallel, and the converse

Straight lines which are parallel to the same straight line are parallel to one another

Triangles and rectilinear figures — The sum of the angles of a triangle is equal to two right angles

If the sides of a convex polygon are produced in order, the sum of the angles so formed is equal to four right angles.

If two triangles have two sides of the one equal to two sides of the other, each to each, and also the angles contained by those sides equal, the triangles are congruent.

If two triangles have two angles of the one equal to two angles of the other, each to each, and also one side of the one equal to the corresponding side of the other, the triangles are congruent.

If two sides of a triangle are equal, the angles opposite to these sides are equal, and the converse

If two triangles have the three sides of the one equal to the three sides of the other, each to each, the triangles are congruent

If two right-angled triangles have their hypotenuses equal, and one side of the one equal to one side of the other, the triangles are congruent.

If two sides of a triangle are unequal, the greater side has the greater angle opposite to it, and the converse.

Of all the straight lines that can be drawn to a given straight line from a given point outside it, the perpendicular is the shortest.

The opposite sides and angles of a parallelogram are equal, each diagonal bisects the parallelogram, and the diagonals bisect one another.

If there are three or more parallel straight lines, and the intercepts made by them on any straight line that cuts them are equal, then the intercepts made by them on any other straight line that cuts them are also equal.

Areas.—Parallelograms of the same altitude on the same or equal bases are equal in area.

Triangles of the same altitude on the same or equal bases are equal in area.

Equal triangles on the same or equal bases are of the same altitude.

Illustrations and explanations of the geometrical theorems corresponding to the following algebraical identities:—

$$k(a + b + c + \dots) = ka + kb + kc + \dots,$$

$$(a + b)^2 = a^2 + 2ab + b^2,$$

$$(a - b)^2 = a^2 - 2ab + b^2,$$

$$a^2 - b^2 = (a + b)(a - b),$$

$$(a + b)^2 - (a - b)^2 = 4ab,$$

$$(a + b)^2 + (a - b)^2 = 2a^2 + 2b^2.$$

The square on a side of a triangle is greater than, equal to, or less than the sum of the squares on the other two sides, according as the angle contained by those sides is obtuse, right or acute. The difference in the cases of inequality is twice the rectangle contained by one of the two sides and the projection on it of the other.

Loci.—The locus of a point which is equidistant from two fixed points is the perpendicular bisector of the straight line joining the two fixed points.

The locus of a point which is equidistant from two intersecting straight lines consists of the pair of straight lines which bisect the angles between the two given lines.

The locus of the vertices of all triangles which have the same base and the sum of the squares of their sides equal to a given square is a circle having its centre at the middle point of the base.

The locus of the vertices of all the triangles which have the same base and the difference of the squares of their sides equal to a given square is a straight line perpendicular to the base.

The locus of the vertices of all the triangles which have the same base and their vertical angles equal to a given angle is the arc of a segment of a circle.

The circle.—A straight line drawn from the centre of a circle to bisect a chord which is not a diameter, is at right angles to the chord; conversely, the perpendicular to a chord from the centre bisects the chord.

There is one circle and one only, which passes through three given points not in a straight line.

In equal circles (or, in the same circle) (i) if two arcs subtend equal angles at the centres, they are equal ; (ii) conversely, if two arcs are equal, they subtend equal angles at the centres.

In equal circles (or, in the same circle) (i) if two chords are equal, they cut off equal arcs ; (ii) conversely, if two arcs are equal, the chords of the arcs are equal.

Equal chords of a circle are equidistant from the centre ; and the converse.

The tangent at any point of a circle and the radius through the point are perpendicular to one another.

If two circles touch, the point of contact lies on the straight line through the centres.

The angle which an arc of a circle subtends at the centre is double that which it subtends at any point on the remaining part of the circumference.

Angles in the same segment of a circle are equal ; and if the line joining two points subtends equal angles at two other points on the same side of it, the four points lie on a circle.

The angle in a semi-circle is a right angle ; the angle in a segment greater than a semi-circle is less than a right angle ; and the angle in a segment less than a semi-circle is greater than a right angle.

The opposite angles of any quadrilateral inscribed in a circle are supplementary ; and the converse.

If a straight line touch a circle, and from the point of contact a chord be drawn, the angles which the chord makes with the tangent are equal to the angles in the alternate segments.

If two chords of a circle intersect either inside or outside the circle, the rectangle contained by the parts of the one is equal to the rectangle contained by the parts of the other ; and the converse.

INTERMEDIATE EXAMINATION IN ARTS

DETAILED SYLLABUS IN THEORETICAL GEOMETRY

N.B.—The order in which the theorems are stated in this Syllabus is not imposed as the sequence of their treatment.

Ratio and Proportion.—Definition and elementary theorems connecting the antecedents and consequents.

A given straight line can be divided internally in a given ratio at one, and only one, point; and externally at one, and only one, point.

A straight line drawn parallel to one side of a triangle cuts the other two sides, or those sides produced, proportionally; and the converse.

If the vertical angle of a triangle is bisected internally or externally, the bisector divides the base internally or externally into segments which have the same ratio as the other sides of the triangle; and the converse.

In equal circles, angles, whether at the centres or circumferences, have the same ratio as the arcs on which they stand.

Triangles and parallelograms of equal altitude are to one another as their bases.

If two triangles have one angle of the one equal to one angle of the other, their areas are proportional to the rectangles contained by the sides about the equal angles. Similarly for parallelograms having one angle of the one equal to one angle of the other.

Similar Figures.—If two triangles are equiangular their corresponding sides are proportional; and the converse.

If two triangles have one angle of the one equal to one angle of the other and the sides about these equal angles proportional, the triangles are similar.

Two triangles are similar, if the sides of the one are respectively parallel or perpendicular to the sides of the other.

If two triangles have two sides of the one proportional to two sides of the other, and an angle in each opposite one corresponding pair of these sides equal, the angles opposite the other pair are either equal or supplementary.

If from the right angle A of a right angled triangle ABC, AD is drawn perpendicular to BC, then (1) AD is the mean proportional between BD and DC, (2) BA is the mean proportional between BD and BC and (3) CA is a mean proportional between CB and CD.

If two triangles are similar, their corresponding lines (such as medians, altitudes, inradii, etc.) are to one another in the ratio of their corresponding sides.

Similar triangles are to one another as the squares on their corresponding sides.

Two similar polygons can be divided into the same number of triangles similar to each other and similarly placed; and the converse.

The perimeters of two similar polygons are to each other as any corresponding sides.

Areas of similar polygons are proportional to the squares on corresponding sides.

Concurrence and Collinearity.—The use of signs as applied to lines, angles and areas. If two parallel lines are cut by three or more concurrent transversals, the corresponding segments are proportional; and the converse.

If X, Y, Z, are points in the sides BC, CA, AB of a triangle ABC, such that the perpendiculars to those sides at these points are concurrent, then and the converse.

$$(BX^2 - XC^2) + (CY^2 - YA^2) + (AZ^2 - ZB^2) = 0;$$

$$\text{or } BX^2 + CY^2 + AZ^2 = CX^2 + BZ^2 + AY^2,$$

If any transversal meets the sides BC, CA, AB of a triangle in D, E, F, then

$$AF \cdot BD \cdot CE = AE \cdot CD \cdot BF;$$

and conversely, if three points D, E, F taken on the sides BC, CA, AB of a triangle, satisfy the relation  $AF \cdot BD \cdot CE = AE \cdot CD \cdot BF$ , then D, E, F, are collinear.

If the lines joining any point to the vertices A, B, C of a triangle meet the opposite sides in D, E, F;

$$\text{then } AF \cdot BD \cdot CE = FB \cdot DC \cdot EA;$$

and conversely, if three points D, E, F, taken on the sides BC, CA, AB of a triangle, satisfy the relation  $AF \cdot BD \cdot CE = FB \cdot DC \cdot EA$ , then AD, BE, CF are concurrent.

If two unequal similar figures are similarly placed, the lines joining the vertices of one to the corresponding vertices of the other are concurrent.

Properties of Triangles.—The three medians of a triangle meet in a point, and this point is a point of trisection of each median, and also of the line joining the circumcentre to the orthocentre.

If D is a point in the side BC of a triangle ABC such that  $BD = \frac{1}{n} BC$ , then

$$(n - 1) AB^2 + AC^2 = n \cdot AD^2 + (1 - \frac{1}{n}) BC^2.$$

The perpendiculars from the vertices of a triangle on the opposite sides meet in a point, and the distance of each vertex from the orthocentre is twice the perpendicular distance of the circumcentre from the side opposite to that vertex.

The circle through the middle points of the sides of a triangle passes also through the feet of the perpendiculars of the triangle and through the middle points of the three lines joining the orthocentre to the vertices of the triangle.

If a perpendicular drawn from the vertex to the base of a triangle is produced to meet the circumcircle, then the distance of this point of intersection from the base is equal to the distance of the orthocentre of the triangle from the base.

The feet of the perpendiculars drawn on the sides of a triangle from any point P on the circumcircle of that triangle are collinear.

The pedal line of P bisects the line joining P to the orthocentre of the triangle.

If the vertex angle of a triangle is bisected by a straight line which cuts the base, the rectangle contained by the sides of the triangle is equal to the rectangle contained by the segments of the base together with the square on the straight line which bisects the angle.

If from the vertical angle of a triangle a straight line is drawn perpendicular to the base, the rectangle contained by the sides of the triangle is equal to the rectangle contained by the perpendicular and the diameter of the circle described about the triangle.

Properties of Circles.—The locus of the points of intersection of tangents drawn at the extremities of chords of a circle which pass through a fixed point, is a straight line.

If the polar of A passes through B, then the polar of B passes through A.

If P and Q are any two points in the plane of a circle whose centre is O, then OP bears to OQ the same ratio as the perpendicular from P on the polar of Q bears to the perpendicular from Q on the polar of P.

The locus of points from which the tangents to two given co-planar circles are equal is a line perpendicular to the line of centres.

In two circles, if any two parallel radii are drawn (one in each circle), the straight line joining their extremities cuts the line of centres in one or other of two fixed points (called centres of similitude).

If through a centre of similitude of two circles, a line is drawn cutting the circles, the radii to a pair of corresponding points are parallel.

If through a centre of similitude  $S$  of two circles, a line is drawn cutting the circles, then the rectangle under the distances of one pair of non-corresponding points from  $S$  is equal to the rectangle under the distances of the other pair of non-corresponding points from  $S$ ; and each of these rectangles is constant.

In a cyclic quadrilateral the rectangle contained by the diagonals is equal to the sum of the rectangles contained by the opposite sides.

Loci.—If from a fixed point  $O$  a variable line is drawn, and in it points  $P, Q$  are taken, so that the ratio of  $OP$  to  $OQ$  is constant, then (1) if  $P$  moves along a straight line, the locus of  $Q$  is a parallel straight line; (2) if  $P$  moves along the circumference of a circle, the locus of  $Q$  is a circle.

The locus of a point which is such that the rectangle under its distances from the equal sides of an isosceles triangle is equal to the square on its distance from the third side, is the circle which touches the equal sides at the extremities of the third side.

If  $A, B$  are fixed points, and  $P$  a variable point such that the ratio of  $PA$  to  $PB$  is one of constant inequality, then the locus of  $P$  is a circle.

Given the base and vertical angle of a triangle, find the locus of its (1) incentre, (2) orthocentre, (3) centroid, (4) excentres.

If a triangle  $ABC$  of given species has one corner  $A$  fixed, another  $B$  always on a fixed line or circle, then the locus of  $C$  will be a line or circle.

Elementary Maxima and Minima.—When two sides of a triangle are given in length, the area of the triangle is greatest when they are placed at right angles.

The maximum triangle which can be inscribed in a given segment of a circle is that formed by joining the middle point of its arc to the extremities of its chord.

If  $A, B$  are two fixed points, and  $XY$  a fixed line; then for that point  $P$  in  $XY$  at which  $AP, BP$  make equal angles with  $XY$ ,

(1)  $AP + PB$  is minimum, if  $A, B$  are on the same side of  $XY$ .

(2)  $AP \sim BP$  is maximum, if  $A, B$  are on opposite sides of  $XY$ .

If  $A, B$  are fixed points and  $P$  any point in a fixed line, the angle  $APB$  will be maximum, when the circle  $APB$  touches the fixed line.

Of all triangles having the same base and equal areas, the isosceles triangle has the minimum perimeter.

The maximum of isoperimetric triangles on the same base is the one whose other two sides are equal.

Of all polygons having all sides given but one, the maximum can be inscribed in a semi-circle having the undetermined side as diameter.

Of all isoperimetric polygons of the same number of sides, the equilateral is the maximum.

If P is any point in a given straight line AB, AP, PB is maximum and  $AP^2 + PB^2$  is minimum when P is the middle point of AB; of all rectangles, of given area, the square has the minimum perimeter.

The maximum parallelogram which can be inscribed in a triangle by drawing parallels to two of its sides, is that formed by drawing the parallels from the middle point of the third side.

Madras Christian College

This institution was founded in 1837 by the Rev. John Anderson, the first Missionary of the Church of Scotland to Madras. It was originally styled the 'General Assembly's Institution', but, remaining in dependence on that section of the Church which in 1843 dissolved its connection with the State, it was known from that time as the 'Free Church of Scotland Mission Institution'. The college department was opened in 1865. In 1876 its basis was widened. Other Christian bodies combined with the Free Church of Scotland in contributing to its support, and it became the most important centre of Christian liberal education in Southern India. The bodies which contribute to its support, and are represented on its council are, at the present time, the United Free Church of Scotland, the Wesleyan Missionary Society, the Church Missionary Society, the Church of Scotland, the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society and the London Missionary Society.

There are hostels attached to the college affording accommodation for about 200 of the students.

The college is affiliated in all the groups of the Intermediate Course; in Groups (i), (ii-A), (iii-B), (iv), and (v), of the B.A. Degree Course; and in Branches i, ii-A, iii, iv, v and vii of the B.A. (Honours) Degree Course. Instruction is offered in Sanskrit in Group iii of the Intermediate Course.

Ten scholarships are awarded annually on the basis of the Secondary School-leaving Certificate and the Intermediate Examination respectively to students joining the First and the Third college classes.

Four studentships are awarded annually in the Honours Classes, two for English, two for Physical Science (or Mathematics), two for Natural Science, two for Philosophy and two for History.

In addition to these there are seven scholarships and one studentship awarded annually in the various college classes to students who have been previously reading in the school or college class of the Institution.

Information regarding these scholarships and studentships, as also the amount and the amount of prizes of the college, may be found in the college prospectus, which is published annually in July.

The number on the rolls of the college at the beginning of the long term, 1914, was 850, viz.—

Trivandrum, Maharaja's Law College

In 1894, the Trivandrum Law class, which was opened in 1875 and affiliated to the University, was raised to the status of a college. It is intended to afford instruction to students preparing for the M.L. and B.L. Degree Examinations of the Madras University and the Pledership, Civil and Criminal Special Tests, and such other examinations in Law as have been or may hereafter be instituted by the Travancore Government. In June, 1902, the old rules regulating the constitution and working of the Law College were revised by His Highness the Maharaja's Government by which the general management of the college was vested in the principal subject to the control of the Dewan, the Law College Council being thus abolished. In January, 1909, a slight modification was made by placing the Law College under the Director of Public Instruction. This arrangement was subsequently altered when in April, 1910, it was finally placed under the control of the High Court. The Law College, it may be noted, is the only self-supporting Educational Institution in Travancore. The rules of the Madras Law College have, with very slight alterations, been adopted in the institution. The curriculum for B.L. students is that laid down by the University regulations.

There were at the beginning of the year fifty-four students in the B.L. class, forty-six students in the F.L. class and 162 students in the Pledership classes.

AFFILIATION TO THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

1. LETTER FROM THE ASSISTANT REGISTRAR, UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD, DATED AUGUST 20, 1908

It is not infrequently the case that students who wish to claim the status of Indian Senior or Junior Students come to Oxford without having the necessary evidence to support their claim.

In order to prevent the inconvenience and delay which often arises from this cause, I venture to make the suggestion that each student from your University who comes to Oxford, and who is entitled to claim the status of Indian Senior or Junior Student, should be provided with a Certificate which will at once show that he has satisfied the necessary conditions. These conditions are

(a) for a Junior Student--

(1) that he has pursued at his University a course of study prescribed by it and extending over two years;

(2) that he has passed all the examinations incident to the course.

(b) for a Senior Student--

(1) that he has pursued at this University a course of study prescribed by it and extending over three years;

(2) that he has 'taken Honours' in the final examination incident to the course.

The certificate should therefore in either case state definitely that the two conditions have been fulfilled.

The conditions under which a student shall be deemed to have 'taken Honours' are usually set forth in a decree for each University, and the certificate should be drawn up in exact accordance with the terms of the decree.

I enclose a copy of the decree for your University, and also specimens of certificates which would be sufficient in the case of a student from it, and it would be a very great convenience, both to me and to the applicant, if a certificate in one or other of these forms could always be produced when a claim is made.

There is one other point. Before taking his degree it is necessary for a Colonial or a Foreign Student to have 'shown a sufficient knowledge of the Greek language.' The decree for any University frequently sets forth that any member of that University who has satisfied certain specified conditions 'shall be deemed to have shown a sufficient knowledge of Greek.' When it is desired to take advantage of this a certificate should be given stating, exactly in the terms of the decree, that the candidate has satisfied the prescribed conditions.

108 AFFILIATION TO THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD.

All certificates should be officially stamped or sealed, and signed by some responsible official of the University.

The scholarships are placed at the disposal of the Universities of Calcutta, Bombay, Madras, and the Punjab in rotation, one scholarship having been given to each of the first two Universities in the year 1886, and one scholarship to each of the last two in 1887. In allotting the scholarships in future years, the same order will be observed.

The following rules for selecting a candidate for the scholarship allotted to the University of Madras have received the sanction of His Excellency the Governor in Council:

1. That the scholarship be open to all Bachelors and Masters of Arts, Bachelors and Masters of Law, Bachelors and Doctors of Medicine and Bachelors of Engineering of the University, who are under 22 years of age on the 31st day of March in the year in which the selection is made.

No. 1089, Educational, dated September 17, 1914.]

4. That the scholar shall be selected by the Vice-Chancellor on the report of the Syndicate, who will, in their turn, be guided by the opinion of the Professors and Examiners.

The scholar selected will be provided with a free passage to and from England

The rules framed by the Secretary of State for the guidance of Indian Government Scholars in England are as follows:—

(1) The Secretary of State considers it desirable that all Government scholars should avail themselves of the information and advice which the Educational Adviser to Indian students is in a position to give them, and these rules are framed with that end in view. Government scholars, equally with private students, may consult the Educational Adviser upon any question, and will receive from him all possible assistance, and the Secretary of State hopes that they will communicate with the Educational Adviser, not only on the occasions when they are directed so to do in these rules, but also in any circumstances of difficulty and whenever they desire advice or information. Scholars will be regarded as being under the supervision and charge of the Educational Adviser, to whom they should in all cases address any communication they may have to make, and to whom also all reports or other communications having reference to scholars should be sent. The Educational Adviser will bring to the notice of the Secretary of State on behalf of any scholar any question requiring his decision and will communicate to the scholar the orders passed by the Secretary of State.

(2) Every scholar should, on reaching England, at once call upon the Educational Adviser* and report his arrival in writing.

* The Educational Adviser's office is at 21, Cromwell Road, South Kensington, S.W.

(3) Immediately on the selection of a candidate for the scholarship, the name of the candidate should be telegraphed to the Secretary of State for India. The name of the candidate, selected subjects of

He should leave his address with the Educational Adviser and intimate to him from time to time all changes therein.

(3) Every scholar should, without unnecessary delay, inform the Educational Adviser to which University he intends to proceed, and should at once take steps to enter himself at the college he has finally selected with his approval.

(4) Every scholar must, within four weeks of reaching England, submit to the Educational Adviser, for the approval of the Secretary of State, a statement showing the general course of study he proposes to follow to carry out the objects of the scholarship granted to him; and the course approved must not be changed without the sanction of the Secretary of State.

(5) Every scholar must, at the end of each term of residence at a University, submit to the Educational Adviser a certificate from the proper college or University authority, showing that his residence, conduct, and progress in study have been satisfactory during the term.

(6) Every scholar must at all times obey such instructions as he may receive from the Secretary of State, either directly or through the Educational Adviser.

(7) Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the allowance, at the rate of 200*l.* a year for three years, will be paid quarterly, in advance, by the India Office, commencing from the date of the scholar's reporting his arrival in England. The first payment will be 50*l.* Three months after the date of reporting arrival the amount to the ensuing official quarter day will be paid. Subsequent payments will be made in advance on or after each official quarter day. The allowance will be reduced by the amount of any other sum which may become payable to him out of the revenues of India in respect of residence at a University during the same period or any part of it, and also by the amount of any

(3) 'The India Office has represented that difficulty has sometimes been caused and a good deal of time wasted by state scholars on their arrival in England beginning to make plans on their own behalf, without real knowledge of educational institutions or requirements. With a view to obviating recurrences of this kind the Government of India consider it very important that scholars should be made to understand that they will be expected on their arrival to fall in with the arrangements made for them'. [G.O. No. 628, Educational, dated July 14, 1914.]

University or college bills, of which payment is made by the India Office.

(8) Travelling expenses, hotel bills, and charges for medical attendance are not defrayed by the Secretary of State.

(9) Every scholar will forfeit his scholarship who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the Secretary of State may consider sufficient, fails to complete a residence of three years in England according to the terms and conditions approved by the Secretary of State under Rule 4, or who is guilty of misconduct or disregard of the instructions of the Secretary of State. If a scholarship be forfeited, or if it be resigned before completion of its term, or if a scholar on completion of the term of his scholarship declines to return to India when instructed to do so, the scholar will lose his claim to a free return passage to India, and will further become liable, at the discretion of the Secretary of State, to refund the cost of his free passage to England.

(10) At the expiration of the scholarship, a scholar is provided by the India Office with a free second-class passage to India. The scholar is not entitled to make his own passage arrangements and to claim an allowance in lieu from the India Office without the special sanction of the Secretary of State. All communications on this subject are to be made to the Educational Adviser.

(11) Should the Secretary of State be advised that the state of a scholar's health is such as to render his return to India desirable, the scholarship may be terminated forthwith and a free return passage granted to the scholar.

By a subsequent resolution of the Government of India, having for its object the extension to the University of Allahabad of the privileges accorded to the other Indian Universities under the previous resolution, the order in which the scholarships are allotted has been altered as follows :

1889 Allahabad, Madras.	1892 Madras, Punjab.
1890 Punjab, Calcutta.	1893 Calcutta, Bombay.
1891 Bombay, Allahabad.

The above sequence will be observed in subsequent years.

Resolution of the Government of India, Home Department

No. 221/238, dated March 19, 1907

The Government of India have recently had under consideration the question of affording assistance to European and Eurasian scholars in India who may desire to prosecute their studies beyond the standard of high school education. The need of domiciled Europeans and Eurasians for separate school education is already recognized and provided for but if, after completing their school course, students of these classes wish for a University education they have to adapt themselves as best they can to the Indian University system, which is primarily intended for the benefit of natives of this country, and to which the existing scheme of European education in India does not lead up. Moreover, on general grounds, the Government of India think it desirable to give some inducement to Europeans and Eurasians in India to pursue their studies up to a high standard and to offer them some prizes to look forward to in their own line of education.

2. After consulting local Governments on the question, the Government of India have now obtained the sanction of the Secretary of State to the grant of one scholarship annually, tenable at an English University, for members of the domiciled European and Eurasian community in India, on the understanding that candidates belonging to these classes will no longer be regarded as eligible for the two University state scholarships at present granted to natives of India. The Governor-General in Council is accordingly pleased to announce that the scholarship will be granted on the following terms and conditions.

3. One scholarship of the value of £200 a year, the cost of which will be defrayed from Imperial revenues, will be awarded annually to a European or Eurasian candidate who is a native of India within the meaning of Statute 33 Vic., Cap. 3, section 6, and whose parents are not resident in India for temporary purposes only.

The following procedure will be observed in the selection of candidates for the scholarship :

(i) Each local Government will be invited to nominate annually a candidate who has been for the preceding two years a pupil of a recognized school or college in India and who has passed the European High School examination, or who is a graduate of one of the Indian Universities. The candidate must be not more than 22 years of age, of good physique and active habits, and must produce medical evidence of good health. Nominations should be submitted by the 31st March of each year, but as a special case the date up to which the recommendations of local Governments will be received during the current year is extended to the 1st June.

(u) The Government of India will select from among the candidates nominated by local Governments the one who appears to them to be best fitted to hold the scholarship. In making the selection due regard will be paid to the claims of each province to participate in its turn in the scheme.

4. The scholarship will entitle the holder to an allowance not exceeding £200 per annum payable from the date of his arrival in England and will be tenable for three or four years, as circumstances may require, at any University in the United Kingdom or, with the special sanction of the Government of India, at a foreign University. The candidate to whom the scholarship is awarded will be required to proceed to England within a reasonable period from the date of his selection, and to reside there for a period of three or four years as the case may be, unless compelled to return sooner by ill health. He will be provided with a free second class passage to England and also with a free return passage if he completes the full period of residence or is compelled by sickness to return within that period.

5. The scholar will, on arrival in England, be required to bind himself by a written engagement to submit to the following rules and to such other regulations as may from time to time be framed by His Majesty's Secretary of State for the guidance of scholars in England.

(a) Every scholar shall, on reaching England, at once present himself to the Secretary, Judicial and Public Department, at the India Office, and report his arrival in writing.

(b) Every scholar shall, without any unnecessary delay, inform the Secretary of State to which University or College he is about to proceed, and shall at once take steps to enter himself thereat.

(c) Every scholar shall, at the end of each term of residence at a University, submit to the Secretary of State a certificate from the proper University or College authority, showing that his residence, conduct and progress in study have been satisfactory during the term.

(d) Every scholar shall at all times obey such instructions as he may receive from the Secretary of State.

(e) Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the allowance, at the rate of £200 a year for three years, or four years, as so determined, will be paid quarterly, in advance, by the India Office, from the date of the scholar's reporting his arrival in England.

(f) Every scholar will forfeit his scholarship who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the Secretary of State may consider sufficient fails to complete the required terms of residence at a University or who is guilty of misconduct, persistent idleness or disregard of the orders of the Secretary of State. If the scholarship be forfeited, the scholar will lose his claim to a free return passage to India, and will further become liable to refund the cost of his free passage to England.

(g) The scholar will be under the supervision and charge of the Political Aide de Camp to the Secretary of State through whom the necessary orders will be given, and to whom all reports and other communications respecting him should be sent Muttuswami Aiyar, B L, K C I E, primarily for the encouragement of the study of Law in its higher branches and especially of Hindu Law, and secondarily for the encouragement of the study of Physical and Natural Science. The endowment was accepted by the Senate at a meeting held on 30th August, 1899 and the following are the conditions of award.

The scholarship shall be designated the 'Sir T. Muttuswami Aiyar Scholarship', and shall be awarded by the Syndicate biennially or whenever a vacancy occurs. It shall be of the monthly value of Rs 30 and tenable for two years or for such shorter period as the Syndicate may deem necessary in the special circumstances of each case.

The scholarship shall, in the first instance, be awarded to a student in Law who, having passed the B L Degree Examination in the University of Madras, wishes to continue his studies for the degree of Master of Laws in the same University, but if, on the occurrence of a vacancy, no student in Law shall apply for the scholarship, it shall be awarded to a student who, having passed the Intermediate Examination in the University of Madras, wishes to continue his studies for the Bachelor of Arts (Honours) degree in one of the subdivisions of Branch II or of Branch III.

On the occurrence of a vacancy, applications for the scholarship shall be invited from students in Law in three successive issues of the Fort St. George Gazette, and, if at the end of six weeks after the appearance of the first notification no application shall have been received from students in Law, a new notification shall be inserted in the said Gazette inviting applications for the scholarship from students who wish to prosecute their studies for the B A. (Honours) degree in the aforesaid branches.

The age of an applicant must not exceed 25 years on the 1st January preceding the date of the notification.

The scholarship may be declared by the Syndicate to be forfeited, if the conduct or progress of the holder be unsatisfactory, or on account of his continued ill-health, or for any other reason which the Syndicate considers sufficient. There shall be no appeal from such decision.

The holder of the scholarship must bind himself by written covenant—

(1) to prosecute his studies for the examination of Master of Laws or Bachelor of Arts (Honours), as the case may be, in the University of Madras, and to appear for examination, on the first occasion admissible under the regulations,

(2) to place himself, for the direction and control of his studies under the supervision of the Principal of the Madras Law College in the case of a student in Law, or of the Principal of a first grade College situated in the town of Madras in the case of a student reading for a degree in Arts,

(3) not to hold any other scholarship in conjunction with this scholarship,

(4) not to pursue any calling inconsistent with the prosecution of his studies, nor to practise as a pleader, nor to hold any salaried appointment during his tenure of the scholarship;

Provided that nothing contained in this covenant shall be taken to debar the holder, if a student in Law, from serving his term of apprenticeship or from being enrolled as a pleader during the tenure

The scholarship shall commence from the date on which the selected applicant reports himself to the Principal of the College under whose supervision he has to pursue his studies after executing the above covenant

The Senate shall have power to make such changes in the conditions of the award as new circumstances may render desirable, provided that the object for which the scholarship has been founded shall always be kept in view and provided that the monthly value of the scholarship shall not be less than one-twelfth part of the interest accruing on the original endowment. Should, however, the Senate at any time after the 'Tata scheme' becomes an accomplished fact, consider it expedient and feasible to utilize the income from the endowment in granting a scholarship for the encouragement of research in any of the above or other branches of learning, it shall be competent for them to do so.

VI. The Anne Isabella Subrahmanyam Scholarships

The following are the terms of award of the above scholarships as amended by the Senate at its meeting held on the 5th March, 1909

These scholarships were founded for promoting the study of Medicine amongst Native Christians of Southern India by Dewan Bahadur Narayana Aiyar Subrahmanyam, B.A., B.L., of Madras, Barrister-at-Law, in memory of his late wife Anne Isabella Subrahmanyam. The first endowment was accepted by the Senate on the 21st September, 1899, the second endowment on the 21st April, 1900, and the third endowment on the 31st August, 1901, and the endowments now amount in the aggregate to Rs. 30,000

2 The endowment for each scholarship consists of Rs. 6,000 invested in  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent Government securities, the interest accruing from which is to be devoted for the support of a student in Medicine in the Madras Medical College studying for the degree of Bachelor of Medicine and Surgery of the University of Madras.

3 In the event of a scholarship not being awarded in any year, the unused interest shall be added to the trust funds. The interest accruing from such accumulations shall be utilized in rateably increasing the amount of each scholarship, subject to a maximum of Rs. 85 per mensem. The surplus interest accruing from the trust funds over and above thirty five rupees per mensem per scholarship shall, as the Senate of the University determine, be applied in endowing some other scholarship in the University, or in the purchase of a medal or prize to be awarded to any student of the University whom the Senate may select for encouragement in the study of Medicine.

4 It shall be lawful for the Senate of the University, from time to time, with the consent, during his lifetime of the founder, to make new regulations with respect to the scholarships, always provided that they do not divert it to any other purpose than the encouragement of the study of Medicine by Native Christians.

5. If any event occurring to prevent the following rules from being carried out, it shall be lawful for the University to apply the trust funds of these scholarships in such manner as will carry out the object of the founder, viz the promotion of the study of medical science by Native Christians of Southern India.

6 The rules that have been framed are as follows

(a) The scholarships shall be called the 'Anne Isabella Subrahmanyam Scholarships'.

(b) By the terms of the deed of endowment (given in the University Calendar, Appendix, Volume I for 1899-1900, page 218) the scholarships are open to Native Christians, male or female, of the Presidency of Madras, or of the States of Mysore, Travancore, Cochin or Pudukkottai. A scholarship will be awarded each year to a student entering the Madras Medical College in the first year's class of the course for the degree of the Bachelor of Medicine and Master in Surgery of the University of Madras. It shall be awarded by the Syndicate on the recommendation of a committee of three members of the Faculty of Medicine, of whom the Principal of the Madras Medical College shall be one.

(c) A scholarship shall be tenable under existing rules for five years or for the period required to qualify for the M.B. & B.S. degree of the University of Madras.

(d) Failure to pass any one of the examinations for the degree of M.B. & B.S. of the University of Madras at the earliest opportunity on which the holder is admissible to it entails forfeiture of the scholarship. In the case of failure to pass one such examination, however, the Syndicate, on the application of the holder of a scholarship, may merely suspend the scholarship for one year. If the holder be successful within this period, it shall be lawful for the Syndicate to continue the scholarship for the remainder of the period for which the holder may be entitled to it.

(e) It shall be lawful for the Syndicate to declare that the holder of a scholarship has forfeited it for any misconduct which they may consider a sufficient cause for such forfeiture, and there shall be no appeal from the decision of the Syndicate.
